Long Memory Nabs Robbery Suspect

The long arm of the law is backed up by a long memory.

Ask Robert Lee Crenshaw, 23, of Old Bristol Pike, Falls Township, near Morrisville.

He is in Bucks County Prison, Doylestown, on an armed robbery charge because of the long memory of a Bristol Township detective.

On Aug 29 two armed men held up the rental office of Bristol Terrace Homes, Inc., on Beaver Dam Road, Bristol Terrace. The bandits made off with $130.

Clues were meager and led to nowhere. Almost a month went by and still the gunmen were on the loose.

Then last Tuesday Detective Wallace B. Michener, who had just recently been assigned to the case with Detective Charles Shaw, recalled that there had been two other armed robberies in the township in 1956. The method of operation was similar to the latest holdup.

Shaw and Michener checked the police files. They learned that Crenshaw had been arrested for the 1956 holdup.

Crenshaw, who had been picked up in Baltimore, had been turned over to Trenton police in 1956.

He was sentenced to jail for a Trenton robbery but then released in 1957 to the Pennsylvania Parole Board, the records showed.

The officers showed Crenshaw's picture to N. Albert Bacharach, manager of the Bristol Terrace rental office, who had been held up by the robbers.

Bacharach said the picture looked like one of the robbers. Shaw and Michener then went to Crenshaw's house to pick him up for questioning. As the police approached the house Crenshaw drove away in his car. The officers caught up to him in Morrisville just as he was approaching the bridge to Trenton.

They took him to headquarters. After questioning he admitted the holdup. Police searched his home and found a .38 caliber pistol with three bullets in it.

Crenshaw said he did not know the name of the second robber. He explained that he had just met him and that he was from New York.

Police are continuing their search for the gunman still on the loose.

Crenshaw was arraigned before JP John Melvin, of Failsington, on an armed robbery charge. Melvin ordered him sent to the county prison without bail to await a hearing. No date has been set for the hearing yet, but police said they expect it will be held this week.

Withdrawal Of Troops Deal Offered By Dulles

Formosa Crisis Lessens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles indicated today the United States would urge withdrawal of large Chinese Nationalist forces from Quemoy and Matsu if a dependable cease-fire agreement can be worked out with the Communists.

Dulles' remarks on the offshore islands were made to a news conference at which he also said:

—He would be willing to meet with Red Communist Premier Chou En-lai if there were reason to think it would help settle the Formosa crisis. But he doubted the wisdom of such a meeting at this time.

—He saw improvement in the Formosa situation over the past two weeks and believed there was less likelihood of war.

—Said State Department subordinates who disclosed mail criticism of the department's Formosan policy were ill-advised but it was a matter of opinion whether they had "sabotaged" his Far East policy, as charged by Vice President Richard M. Nixon. But Dulles said there would be serious consequences for war and peace in the release of unevaluated letters which gave the possibly erroneous impression that the United States was about to change its policy because of the pressure of public opinion.

Possible Nationalist Return

—He did not believe the Nationalist Chinese would ever be able to return to the mainland under their own steam, as he put it, but he would not rule out the possibility that they might eventually get there as a resul of a Hungarian-type revolution in China.

—The United States will consider taking the Formosa crisis to the United Nations if the ambassadorial talks in Warsaw between U.S. representative Jacob Beam and Chinese Communist envoy Wang Ping-nan tend to break down or if military activity in the area is increased.

Dulles was asked whether it would not be sound to work out some withdrawal of the Nationalist forces on Quemoy and Matsu since the United States did not believe the buildup had been particularly wise in the first place.

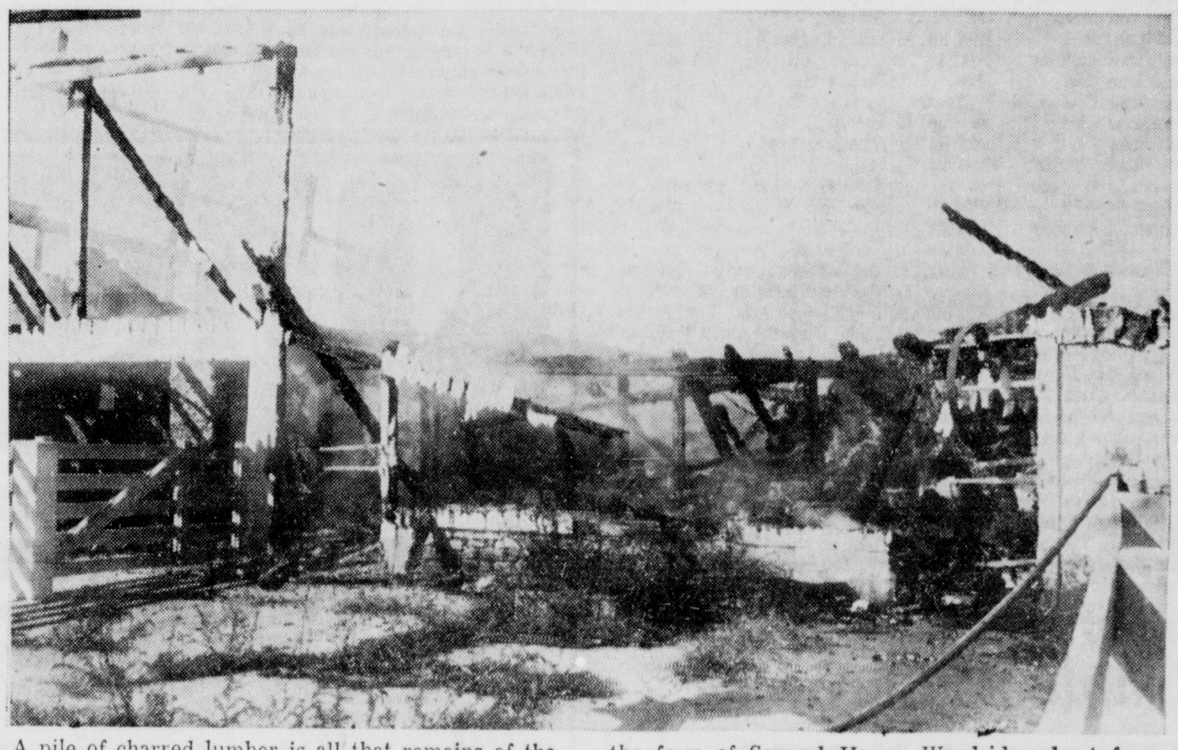

Agreement or De Facto

He replied that this would depend on the circumstances. A withdrawal as a retreat under fire, he said, would not be desirable because of the impact it would have on other countries.

Dulles added, however, that if there were a reasonably depend-

Little Rock segregationists in a box.

Supreme Court has made it crystal clear that any plans to thwart school integration will be regarded as contempt of court. An Appeals court also made it clear that the private school plan is also illegal.

Now to watch Governor Faubus try to squirm out of this.

Dulles and his assistant Christian A. Herter seem to differ on Quemoy's importance. Herter says it isn't strategic to Formosa.

However, Dulles has been going to the brink now for months over the small island. If the two top men in the State Department can't agree how do they expect the rest of the country to back their actions.

Two men try to "beat the rock." They try to escape from escape-proof Alcatraz. One has already been caught and we wouldn't give a plug nickel for the chances of the other.

It's an awful long, cold swim to shore.

Here comes the annual "stop work fall classic." In a short series like this anything can happen—and always does. Picking a winner is just guessing but anyone who can tap a typewriter likes to exercise the privilege.

Good gosh we though' summer was coming when we tuned in the face box last night and the Arthur Murray show came on. The perennial summer replacement finally has won itself a cold weather spot.

And talking about TV we notice the networks this year are putting westerns against westerns. Makes a western fan nuts trying to see them all.

We can hardly wait to miss the Eddie Fisher show tonight.

Court Order Stalls Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today that he is looking for another way to provide segregated education for Little Rock High School students, since a federal court order has stopped his private schools plan.

He conceded that if a restraining order now in effect is made a permanent injunction in an Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals hearing nex tMonday, his job will be more difficult.

"...Other avenues and means of providing education for the students will be explored," Faubus said in a statement. "We think the action of the federal government is illegal, but if the injunctive action of the courts is made permanent it will make our efforts more difficult but not at all impossible.

"As long as the people stand firm, a way will be found to preserve our traditions and educate our children despite all efforts of the federal government and the NAACP to the contrary."

Faubus was talking to his lawyers at the gubernatorial mansion; he issued the statement through his office at the state Capitol.

TV Schools Off

The Little Rock school board's television instruction program for high school students, which was offering six hours' of televised lessons a day on three TV stations, went off the air today.

There was no immediate indication whether it will be resumed.

A truck pulled up in front of Central High School and two men put up a four-by-six-foot sign in the center of the school yard. It said: "This school closed by order of the federal government (sic)".

Similar signs were tacked on trees at the other three high schools. A watchman hired by the Little Rock school board reported at Hall High that he almost had a gun fight with the men who put up the sign.

A tussle was reported at Central between a watchman there and the men with the sign.

The U.S. marshal said he knew nothing about the signs.

Chrysler Contract Practically OK'd

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers reached agreement on all but two points of a new contract today and union president Walter P. Reuther headed for General Motors to try for a settlement there before Thursday's strike deadline.

Reuther left the Chrysler bargaining table after a 23½-hour marathon negotiating session and left to his subordinates the task of ironing out differences on the issues of engineering and office workers.

He said the regular Chrysler and UAW bargtining teams will reconvene after a two-hour recess in an attempt to reach a quick settlement.

"I think I can say we have reached a meeting of minds on the basic contract," Reuther said.

But he quickly emphasized that "nothing is agreed to until everything is agreed to."

Reuther's comment indicated that a settlement with Chrysler was possible within hours, and that his presence was not needed to wrap final unsolved details of the contract.

The union was scheduled to call its members at GM plants out on a nationwide strike at 10 a.m. Thursday if an agreement is not reached by that time.

The marathon talks between Chrysler and the union gave the firm a second chance to settle before GM. Last week Reuther walked out of talks with Chrysler because he was not satisfied with the progress the company was making toward agreement.

Yesterday's top mark was 66 at 4 p.m. with this morning's low a chilly 46 at 5 a.m.

Fire Destroys Barn, Causes $75,000 Loss

Damage totaling $75,000 was estimated in the fire yesterday afternoon that reduced a huge white barn to a pile of smouldering timber in Lower Makefield Township.

Some 150 firemen from three Lower Bucks County companies fought high flames and dense smoke for nearly two hours after the fire broke out on the 96-acre farm of Samuel Henry in Woodside, four miles west of Yardley.

The firemen, aided by the fact that there was practically no wind were able to keep flames from spreading to several small buildings and the Henry farm house less than 100 feet from the barn.

One fireman, Bruce Carter, Langhorne, was treated on the scene after he was overcome by smoke.

Chief John Ziaylek, Yardley, directed the Yardley, Langhorne and Newtown Fire Companies at the scene. Morrisville Fire Co. was on standby orders.

High In Sky

Flames and smoke reached high into the sky above Woodside and could be seen more than 10 miles away.

The fire apparently started in the roof of the barn about 1:30 p.m. yesterday. It was discovered by an unidentified motorist who was driving along the Lower Makefield -Yardley Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry and laborers employed at the farm were either in the field or in a smaller barn building about 200 feet from the main barn. Their view of the barn was blocked by the farm house.

Henry and the farm help were able to pull some machinery from the blazing barn but two another woman, plows, a grain elevator, grain drill, hay loader and corn husker were consumed by the flames.

Firemen had to lay more than 5,000 feet of hose to pump water from the nearest source, a small lake. Water from seven pumper trucks was used to fight the flames in the early moments of the fire.

Henry estimated that there were about 20 tons each of hay and straw in the barn and about 50 bushels of feed.

Chief Ziaylek said preliminary investigation of the fire had "ruled out the possibility of arson." The barn was 40 years old but in first class condition.

'Con' Sought On Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sixty guards, armed with carbines and revolvers, prowled fog-swept Alcatraz Island today in search of a convict who with a companion tried to "beat the Rock."

The missing man was Aaron Walter Burgett, 28, a gunman from St. Louis, Mo. His companion, Clyde Johnson, 40, a Memphis, Tenn., bank robber, was caught several hours after they overpowered a guard and disappeared.

A Cosat Guard helicopter and four Coast Guard cutters circled the island to prevent a getaway by boat.

Burgett and Johnson flashed a knife in the face of guard Harold Miller yesterday. Both men were outside the prison walls and working on a garbage detail at the time. They told Miller a getaway launch was waiting for them.

Associate Warden Joseph B. Latimer said he doubted Burgett could have swum from the island through the man-killing tides of San Francisco Bay to the mainland a mile and a half away.

Six times before, desperate convicts tried to escape from Alcatraz. Each attempt failed.

Divorcee Indicted In Executive's Slaying

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Mrs. Connie Nicholas, 42, central figure in the slaying of wealthy drug firm executive Forrest Teel, today was indicted on a first degree murder charge.

The grand jury accused the pretty divorcee of "malice aforethought" in the July 31 shooting of Teel, who she said loved her for 15 years before he left her for another woman.

Driver Hurt As Car Hits Wall In Bristol

A motorist was injured early today when his car struck a parked car, jumped a sidewalk and rammed into the brick wall of a Bristol Borough bakery shop.

Admitted to Lower Bucks County Hospital was Leonard Woodward Jr., 42, of 4211 Lawnside Road, Philadelphia. He suffered a fractured right leg, several lacerations of the face and broken ribs. His condition was described as fair.

On Farragut Ave.

The accident took place 12:15 a.m. today. Police said Woodward was driving east on Farragut Ave., near Coolidge Place, when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

According to police, the car veered first to the right and sideswiped a parked car, then careered on a 45 degree angle across Farragut Ave., hopped the sidewalk there and came to rest against the brick front wall of the bakery shop approximately 160 feet from the parked car.

Anthony Nicozzi, owner of the bakery, was in the store at the time of the crash. The impact of the crash jarred the building but caused no serious damage.

Nicozzi raced outside to inves-

Twp. Resident Critical After Trailer Blast

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) —Paul Feraco, 32, of 4618 Gary Drive, Margo Gardens, Bristol Township, was burned critically today in an explosion in a trailer at a housing construction project in Northeast Philadelphia.

Feraco was caught in the blast believed caused by an explosion of propane gas in the trailer. Police believe he was lighting a cigaret when the gas exploded.

Police said Feraco is the son of Angelo Feraco, owner of the construction company working on the 500-home project at Axe Factory Rd. and Winchester Rd.

Firemen removed Feraco from the burning trailer and took him to Nazareth Hospital where his condition on arrival was reported as critical.

The accident happened at 7:20 this morning.

The victim has lived at his Margo Gardens home, located off Bath Road, since January 1954. He and his wife Agnes, moved here from Philadelphia. They have three children, Carolyn, 10, Paul, seven, and Cheryl, two. The two oldest children attend St. Marks Parochial School, Bristol.

Fishermen Rescued, Bristolian Gives Aid

Six Burlington County fishermen adrift in the Atlantic in a 26-foot cabin cruiser since Saturday were rescued yesterday afternoon by Coast Guardsmen 12 miles off Chincoteague Island, Va.

A Bristol Coast Guardsman, James Wayne Klug, aided in the extensive rescue operations which began Saturday when the six men failed to return to the Cape Horn dock, Little Egg Harbor Township near Tuckerton, N.J.

Klug, 19, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Klug, 338 Jefferson Ave. and the husband of the former Sandra Lynn. He is stationed at the Coast Guard station at Tuckerton, and was a crew member of a Coast Guard boat which joined in the intensive search.

The Coast Guard at Chincoteague Island said the cruiser's engine broke down Saturday shortly after the six men left the harbor. The boat drifted nearly 100 miles through heavy seas.

Aboard the boat were Randolph Lewis, 42, owner; Floyd James, 23, Edward Schimchak, 36, and Alexander Morkoski, 35, all of Burlington, and Anthony Caruso, 28, Florence, and John James, 30, Rancocas.

Dignitaries Are Invited As Speakers

Dedication of the new Regional Public Library building will take place Saturday morning, Oct. 11.

Announcement of the dedication was made today by Harold Lefcourt, Library president. The library is scheduled to be open for the first time next Monday.

Several dignitaries on the state, county and local levels are to speak at the dedication.

Librarian

The new librarian, William D. Joyce, will be introduced to the gathering planned on the grounds at Mill Creek and Levittown Parkways. Starting time is 11 a.m.

Joyce recently was appointed director of the Library. He had been librarian at Lowell (Mass.) State Teachers College several years before taking the new post.

A tour of the new library will end the brief ceremony.

Another dedication event will be the presentation of a book to one of the 100 volunteer librarians who have kept various temporary libraries staffed for the past four years. The recipient will represent all the volunteers.

Important Occasion

Lefcourt said in announcing the ceremony, "This truly will be one of the most important occasions in Lower Bucks County in many years.

"This is the start of an integrated library system which will bring to all the people of Lower Bucks the best in the written and spoken word.

"And just as important, this will be the expression of a community's gratitude for all these selfless volunteers and donors who have made the Library a vital functioning asset."

Dr. Boehm To Give Talk

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, state superintendent of public instruction, has accepted an invitation to be one of the featured speakers at the testimonial dinner for Pat Brennan Saturday night at the Fiesta Restaurant, Eddington.

Mrs. Norma Shaw, dinner chairman, announced Dr. Boehm will join labor leader Frank Flatch and state legislative leader W. Stuart Helm, speaker of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, as guests.

Medill Bair, regional superintendent of the Pennsbury Schools, will be toastmaster.

The bi-partisan testimonial dinner is being given by a group of Brennan's friends who wish to recognize "his four years of outstanding service to the people of Bucks County as State Representative."

David H. Struble, publicity chairman, said there are tickets left and they may be obtained by calling Mrs. Shaw at WI 6-0195.

Falls To Hear 5th Candidate

The fifth and final candidate, a Pennsylvanian, will be interviewed today for the position of Falls Township manager.

Milton Berkes, secretary-treasurer of the Falls Township Board of Supervisors, said Nov. 1 has been set at the target date for appointment of the new manager.

The other candidates were interviewed by a screening committee last week.

Berkes said the reviewing body will make its recommendation to the board after interviewing all candidates. The board of supervisors will make the final selection. Appointment is expected in two weeks with the applicant on the job by Nov. 1.

The salary will be between $7,000 and $10,000, depending on qualifications of the candidate, Berkes said.

Prima Facie Evidence Confronts Constable

TAZEWELL, Tenn. (UPI)—Constable Andy Johnson got plenty of evidence when he burst into the home of a bootlegging suspect—some of it right in the face.

Johnson said that when he walked through the door Mrs. Chris Brantley threw a bucket of moonshine whisky at him and he didn't have time to duck.

But he and other raiding officers found 50 full half-pint bottles hidden around the place and charged both Mrs. Brantley and her husband with bootlegging.

Suspect Mum On Murder

Chance of police getting a statement from their number one suspect in the Sept. 23 murder of Max Weiss, Bristol rooming house operator, appear very slim.

Chief Vincent Faragalli, Bristol Borough Police, said the suspect, John Kozar, 41, a former roomer and handyman for Weiss, has been advised by his attorney "not to talk to police."

Thomas Reap, Levittown, was named Kozar's attorney over the weekend.

Kozar had been in a condition described as a semi-coma for two days after his arrest in the room he occupied in Weiss' house, 316 Jefferson Ave., Bristol. Police said Kozar had been drinking heavily for at least a week before the shooting.

The suspect regained consciousness Friday but police say they have been unable to obtain a statement from him. Kozar was arraigned on a murder charge in his room at Lower Bucks County Hospital Saturday night.

Police are still awaiting fingerprint and ballistics tests being made in Harrisburg on the gun believed used in the murder. There is still no word from the hospital on when Kozar will be released. His condition is described as "fair."

Under further questioning, he said a cease-fire could be either by agreement or de facto—that is, one which just comes about when both sides stop shooting without any formal pact.

Dulles told the conference that any cease-fire obviously would have to be reciprocal because there would be no sense in asking the Communists to stop shooting unless the Nationalists did likewise.

Nanette Fabray Gives Birth To Son

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Comedienne Nanette Fabray, 38, wife of director Ranald MacDougall, was reported in "good condition" today at Cedars of Lebanon hospital after the birth of a son.

U.S. Marines Land Guns On Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—United States Marines landed on Quemoy with eight-inch howitzers and turned them over to Nationalist Chinese artillerymen, informed sources in Taipei said today.

The sources emphasized the U.S. Marines did not fire the howitzers on Quemoy. They delivered the howitzers to pretrained Nationalist gun crews and withdrew from the island.

The sources said the Marines landed the self - propelled eight-inchers at night about 10 days ago and set them in position where Nationlist gunners could reply to Red artillery that has pounded the Quemoys since Aug. 23.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry, without mentioning any new type of guns, reported today Nationalist artillery destroyed 13 Communist guns and four fortifications Monday.

The American-supplied weapons, described as deadly accurate and with a range sufficient to hit any of the Communist gun emplacements sheling Quemoy, were installed during a barrage by the radar-controlled Red artillery but there were no American casualties.

The big howitzers were delivered by U.S. Navy landing craft and were brought from Okinawa because the Nationalists' smaller and less accurate 105 and 155 millimeter artillery was no match for the Communist guns, the informed sources said. The 105s and 155s are conventional artillery of a U.S. Army division.

The eight-inchers scored one of their first Quemoy victories on Sept. 26 when they blew up a Communist ammunition dump across one of the narrow necks of water separating the Quemoy Island complex from Red territory.

Going In Circles

By MAURY ALLEN

Sociologists claim the big families of yesterday are coming back. They have offered various types of social reasons for the trend away from the two—children family to three, four, five or more offspring. Room and suburban living have been main factors for this change. Many other factors have been offered by the social thinkers of the day.

Quite a few are valid. Some maybe not so valid. One, I am sure has not even been considered, in this trend of thought.

Navy Lieutenant and Mrs. Robert Gully, 9 Forsythia Drive, Levittown, have their own explanation.

They had children three at one time.

The Naval flier, stationed at McGuire Air Force Base, and his wife became the parents of identical triplet boys almost four years ago.

"When the doctor told us a month or so before the children were born that we would have triplets, my husband just wouldn't believe me," Mrs. Gully said.

"He certainly believed it when he saw them."

Mrs. Gully had to care for five children under three years of age when the boys, Jimmy, Paul and Steve, were born in Pensacola, Fla. The other two children were Vicki, now 6, and Jeff, 5.

"You can just imagine how busy I was when 'they were babies," Mrs. Gully laughed. "Now we have it pretty well under control because the boys are all easy to manage and my daughter is a perfect little lady. She is like a mother hen around the boys, and is very helpful."

The triplets totaled a little more than ten pounds when they were born. Now the healthy youngsters weigh in at 26 pounds for Jimmy and 28 each for Steve and Paul. The boys wear the same size in clothes and Mrs. Gully dresses them alike "though sometimes that takes quite a lot of shopping.' 'As a Navy wife she has shopping privileges at the base but sometimes manages bargains in the local stores even better than those at the base.

Mrs. Gully said she rarely gets the boys mixed up. They are pretty easy to recognize, she said, when they are your own, even though they are identical. She said the grandparents have a little difficulty telling them apart and most friends and other relatives always do.

"Other than the fact that boys look alike they are certainly individuals, though they have similar personalities.

"Sometimes they get moody like any boys. But we're lucky that it doesn't happen at the same time," she said.

Men between 21 and 35 may obtain more information by contacting Jack White, membership chairman or by attending the orientation session, a Jaycee spokesman announced.

Herter Differs On Quemoy

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) —The Quemoy Islands have no strategic value in the defense of Formosa but the Nationalist Chinese regard them with a fixed devotion "which is almost pathological in the strength of its expression," Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter said Monday.

"Anyone can see by looking at the map that the offshore islands are not necessary to the defense of Formosa," he said, "but the Chinese Nationalists have fixed in their minds that these islands are an essential part of Nationalist China and will be defended at any cost."

Herter told more than 1,000 delegates to the 80th general conference of the National Guard Associations that the nationalist attitude must be kept in mind when forming foreign policy regarding the area.

"We are willing to try to adjust the crisis peacefully but we are in no position to hand over the territory of an ally," he said.

No-Attack Pledge Seen From China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) – Nationalist China will tell the United Nations today it does not plan to invade the Chinese mainland or to involve the United States in a war with Peiping, informed sources said.

But Dr. Tingfu F. Tsiang, the Chinese Nationalist ambassador, will stay the Nationalist government stands ready to strike whenever revolt might break out against the government of Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-tung, the sources said.

Bensalem Meets On Employes Union

Negotiations have begun between Bensalem Township supervisors and highway and office employes of the Township and representatives of the State, County and Municipal Employes Union, AFL-CIO.

The Supervisors and officers of the proposed local met last night at AFL - CIO headquarters in Bristol with Anthony Fiorello, international representative of the employes union, Bucks County council chairman Frank Flatch said.

Satisfactory

He said negotiations were started last night and are progressing satisfactorily. A second meeting was tentatively slated to be held in a couple of weeks, Flatch said, and negotiations can be settled at that time.

Flatch said all 12 Bensalem Township employes signed for the union, Sept. 8. If the union is accepted by township officials, Bensalem will be the first township in the county to unionize its employes.

Bristol Borough employes are organized under the United Automobile Workers Union. Flatch said a drive is on to organize Bristol and Falls Townships into an employes union.

Attending last night's meeting with Fiorello and Flatch were: Township Supervisors Raemond Wink, Roy Green, Theodore Zajac, and these officers of the proposed union—Russell Dowell, vice president; Benjamin Turner, treasurer, and Joseph DeBuske, secretary.

Absent

Bensalem Township Manager William Sommers didn't attend the meeting. Contacted today, Sommers said, "The supervisors are making a practice of meeting without me."

Flatch said the supervisors told him they would discuss "various factors of the session" with the township manager and the township solicitor, especially cost factors of the proposed union, and report back at the next negotiation meeting.

Prison Has 'Full House'

Edward Tinsman, 33, of 1462 Rosalie Ave., Cornwells Heights, charged with non-support, was committed on an attachment served by Chief Parole Officer William Herman.

Calvin Howe, 40, of 224 Beechwood Road, Philadelphia, charged with drunken driving, was committed to jail by Justice of the Peace Edward Koderer, for a further hearing.

GOP Aspirant Cites Record

"The 1957 Republican - controlled General Assembly voted three quarters of a billion dollars for education, an all-time record, which included 31 million dollars for increased teachers' salaries turned down by Governor Leader in the previous session." said J. Maurice Tomlinson, Republican candidate for Representative in the Second Assembly District of Bucks County.

He charged, "Governor Leader and other Democrat candidates are continually trying to take credit for good Republican programs in the field of public education, and in other fields as well."

"I feel it is essential to keep teachers' salaries on the same par as those salaries outside of the teaching profession because teachers are of primary importance in good education.

"A good teacher is far more important to have in a classroom than the 'gingerbread' that is over - emphasized by modern educationists as school room musts," he said.

Tomlinson stressed that he was "firmly convinced that an elaborate school room without a teacher or with a dissatisfied teacher amounts to nothing. I am definitely in favor of making the teaching profession more attractive and in getting into our schools the best qualified people to teach."
